Hannah Diamond	High-pitched, ultra-clean 'doll-like' vocals; fast retune speed ($0$ - $10$ ms); formant shifting (Antares Throat Evo) to feminize/thin timbre; parallel high/low octaves; manual syllable comping; breathy, saccharine textures.	Roland JV-1080, Korg M1, Arturia DX7 V, Serum, Sylenth1, and Spire for bright, crystalline 'plastic' textures; 'Poke Bass' technique (Minimoog sub + DX7 transient/FM click); 3xOSC, Sytrus, and GMS.	The 'Poke Bass' (highly compressed, short-decay kick-bass); hyper-polished hits; sidechained foley; bouncy dance-pop grooves; sharp digital transients designed to cut through low-bandwidth speakers; clicky kicks.	Minimalist, subtractive arrangement; 'HD' clarity in a digital void; high-gloss aesthetic balancing satire and sincerity; clean, empty spaces punctuated by sudden dynamic pivots; focus on high-frequency vocal clarity.	Staged clipping using high-oversampling clippers (StandardCLIP) before brickwall limiting (Ozone) to reach $-6$ to $-5$ LUFS; OTT compression for vivid clarity; emphasis on upper-mid clarity and high-end sparkle.	Hyper-digital high-definition aesthetics; 'plastic' pop imagery; consumerist perfection; digital fragility; 360-degree pop portrait; Y2K-inspired digital perfection; 'angelcore'.	1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16
Charli XCX	Aggressive Auto-Tune (Antares) as a creative instrument; heavy distortion; rhythmic gating; vocal chops/stutters; extreme formant shifting; 'robotic' layering; monitored 'stair-stepped' pitch transitions; integration of raw delivery.	Xfer Serum (primary), Arturia V Collection (Jupiter 8, DX7, Prophet), Spire, and Synplant 2; FM synthesis; bit-crushing; detuned supersaws; arpeggios; Logic Pro and Pro Tools integration; FilterFreak and MBitFunMB.	Industrial-influenced drums; distorted 808s; gated reverb; high-passed kicks (Model B); focus on transient clicks at $2.5$ to $5$ kHz; Kick 2 for tonal movement; 'Club Classics' bubbling textures; syncopated rhythms.	Maximalist layering ('wall-of-sound') contrasted with sudden silence; subtractive production (muting/deleting regions) to create tension; experimental pop structures; 'chaos-to-clarity' transitions.	Hard/staged clipping for aggressive presence; multi-band limiting (IRC IV) for dense mid-range; aggressive low-end isolation; saturator-heavy chains to achieve extreme LUFS for club environments.	Futuristic rave culture; 'brat' aesthetic; DIY-meets-high-fashion; hedonism and reflection; club-ready textures; industrial pop; blurring of sincerity and satire; 'car-music' aesthetics.	1, 2, 3, 17, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16
SOPHIE	Extreme pitch-shifting and formant manipulation (Little Alter Boy, Manipulator) to blur human/machine boundaries; voice treated as a physical material; granular synthesis; dry, upfront processing; vocoder layers.	Elektron Monomachine (primary), Serum, Spire, and Massive; physical modeling; FM synthesis (sine modulating saw); pitch-swept sines; micro-delay feedback; static comb-delay resonators; Max/MSP; phase modulation.	Metallic snares (pitch-swept sines + $1$ - $15$ ms comb delay); 'latex' textures; tactile foley (balloons, bubbles); high-pressure sub-bass; squelchy kicks with ring modulation; granulized percussion; zero samples used.	Hyper-spatialization; severe negative space and silence; subtractive arrangement to highlight single 'sound objects'; sculptural 3D sonic environments; high dynamic contrast; 'ugly sounds need discipline'.	Extreme transient preservation via hard/staged clipping; surgical EQ; surgical frequency management for massive bass with high-end 'sparkle'; wave folders and tape saturation to round peaks; high LUFS-S focus.	Physicality of sound; materiality (metal, plastic, liquid, latex); molecular gastronomy; trans-humanism; gender euphoria; kinetic energy; synthesis of reality; Silicon aesthetics.	1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 18, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16
